Clear type. Precise copy. One product.

Arial Bold for display; Arial for supporting copy. Keep text editable.

Use navy text on white or ice. Cobalt is an accent, not a small-text default.

Keep the supplied bottle and its printed AURORA label unchanged.

The separate wordmark is a new concept; it does not replace the product label.

No invented ingredients, size, performance, certifications or endorsements.

Build from accepted assets.

One generated catalog edit.

detail.png / crop and editable render recipe

brand-card.png / exact type and placement

wordmark.svg / original paths + editable text render.py / local layout and PDF source

README.md / prompts, cost and limitations

No additional generation for a copy-only revision.

This demonstrates a fictional product page, not approval for a particular marketplace.

The small original reference cannot verify unseen construction or exact material properties.
